Chalet was conceived to answer the most demanding criteria in luxury and comfort

Built by Philippe Capezzone, owner and designer of two famous 5* Hotels in Courchevel 1850, the chalet was conceived to answer the most demanding criteria in terms of luxury and comfort. A wonderful mix of contemporary design mingled with traditional Savoyard stone and classic woodwork panelling. It has been beautifully finished with the finest materials and furnishings together with many local Savoyarde artefacts. The sitting area with its huge armchairs and comfortable sofas has a large open stone fire. Picture windows lead onto a sunny terrace and there is also an open plan dining area on this floor.

5 Bedrooms & Bathrooms

All the five bedrooms are extremely comfortable with a contemporary yet "homely" feel designed to turn your nights into precious moments of peace and relaxation. The five en-suite bathrooms offer equally stylish facilities.

Swimming pool & spa

When you arrive in the chalet you are immediately drawn to the swimming pool area. With it's unusual shape and impressive volume this wellness area will undoubtedly be the place for many happy moments shared with family and friends. The swimming pool has a jet stream and there is also a hammam, cinema screen and zoned

The dedicated home cinema room has a Play station, a great choice of DVD's, a multitude of TV channels and, of course, a large movie library with all the latest films available. A great place for both children and adults alike.
