Design chalet by Heinz Julen with unique hydraulic rooftop hot-tub

8-10 Guests • 5 Bedrooms • 320 m<sup>2</sup> / 3444 ft

This chalet is based on an old Valais house dating from the 1940s, which local designer & architect Heinz Julen has modernized and extended by two stories in line with the chalet nature of the building. This extension has been constructed exclusively from local larch and designed to include large areas of glass, providing a spectacular 360 degree panoramic view over the village and the Matterhorn. The chalet has 5 double bedrooms. The roof structure has open gables, and provides an open living, dining and kitchen space, with the fireplace giving the place a cozy atmosphere. At the end opposite said fireplace, Heinz has devised and built a spectacular hot tub - a fascinatingly small feat of engineering, which is probably unique among its kind worldwide. The hot tub accommodates up to 6 people. At the press of a button the roof opens, and the hot tub is hydraulically lifted above the roof ... The view from there is breathtaking, making the experience unique and memorable. To complete this exclusive experience, the chalet's own spa facility also includes a sauna.

Small private home cinema and games room

The bedrooms are spread over the two floors below. Right down in the cellar, there is a small private home cinema and games room, and is equipped with Internet facilities and a workstation. Also a toilet and shower can be found there. Right next door is the skiing room, with heated ski boot racks. All these rooms have access to a private lift. The chalet has an overall surface of 320m<sup>2</sup>.
